

How to use wiki in Metropolia?

Wiki is a tool and method for collective media, which can be used to produce interactive WWW-pages in e.g. group work (wiki). The administrator of the workspace can assign its users, who are able to edit areas that the administrator has given rights for.

Wiki in Metropolia

Wiki is mostly used for teaching, project communications and think tank activities in Metropolia. Most of the workspaces are open for the entire staff and students of the school.

How to get started?

Students and employees are able to create wiki spaces for personal or collaborative use.

More instructions about creating a wiki page are in the Quick Guide.

You may create a new collaborative wiki space for studies (including projects, reports and think tank activities). Collaborative spaces must be initialized at the IT Services before use. Send a free-form request to Helpdesk (<https://hd.metropolia.fi>).
